SPEND TIME IN THIS FASCINATING HOLY CITY

As the first rays of sun fall on bathing ghats and temples on the banks of the Ganges, take boats on the holy river. You rub your eyes in amazement: Is that a mirage, a film set or is it reality? Pilgrims cleanse themselves from sins in the murky waters, yogis meditate, mourners scatter ashes. On a stroll through the narrow streets of the old town, you will pass the famous Vishvanath Temple.

In the evening you will witness the Aarti ceremony, when pilgrims and priests conjure up the sacred Ganges with flickering oil lamps - simply magical! Your train then sets off again and travels west through the green Ganges plain. Fields, villages, markets, sacred cows - India's everyday life passes you by. Your next destination: one of the most breath-taking monuments in the world.

The majestic Taj Mahal is rightly considered one of the Seven Wonders of the World and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The Mughal ruler Shah Jahan had the structure built entirely of white marble in memory of his late favourite wife Mumtaz Mahal. Precious inlays made of sparkling semi-precious stones are reflected in deep blue basins.

Then you have the choice: either you take a stroll through the market, learn more about Indian cuisine in a cooking class or admire the Red Fort, also a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

From its barred balconies, the noble ladies of the city once looked down on the colourful hustle and bustle of the market. Essential: visits to the magnificent city palace and the Jantar Mantar observatory from the 18th century, which is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

A fascinating excursion takes you to the mighty palace-fortress of Amber, which towers picturesquely over Lake Maota. 1,000 mirrors reflect the glow of a single lamp and illuminate the huge hall of mirrors. In the afternoon there is still some time for a shopping spree at Jaipur's handicraft market before your rolling home starts moving again.

DECCAN ODYSSEY TRAIN INCLUSIONS & EXCLUSIONS

TOUR DESCRIPTION

India's unique blend of history, culture and scenery have intoxicated western travellers for centuries.

It's no wonder: life on the subcontinent is more vibrant and colourful than almost anywhere else on the planet, something that's as true today as when the East India Company set up its first outposts in the 17th Century. Now booming, modern India is able to enjoy success without abandoning its rich and varied past: the country's history dates back over 5,000 years, blessing it with an amazing array of monuments, ruins, temples and cities.

With sights ranging from the Amber Fort and Varanasi to the incomparable Taj Mahal, this extraordinary country is one of the most rewarding destinations open to a traveller today. The railway arrived in India in 1853, and the country now has one of the world's biggest and busiest railway networks – almost 40,000 miles in all. It is said that trains created modern India more than anything else. What's certain is that today's India couldn't exist without it, and that the railway is by far the best way to see the country as it really is.
