DAY 2

BEIJING

- Temple of Heaven, Tiananmen Square, Forbidden City & Summer Palace.

Today you will see the main highlights of Beijing starting with the Temple of Heaven set in a beautiful park and considered by many to be the most beautiful building in China.

On to vast Tiananmen Square, home to the Mao Mausoleum (it may be possible to visit if open) and Monument to the People's Heroes before walking to the huge palace complex of the Forbidden City. We'll walk up the middle axis from South to North taking in the splendour of the most important central buildings before finishing in a small and ancient garden by the north gate.

The last stop today is at the Summer Palace to the west of Beijing. Dominated by Kunming lake it is as popular an escape from the city for today's Beijingers as it was for the Imperial court over the centuries.

Return to your hotel with the rest of the evening free or just ask us for suggestions of shows or cultural activities.

 Meals Included: Hotel Breakfast & Restaurant Lunch.

DAY 3

BEIJING

- The Great Wall at Mutianyu & one of Beijing's Markets.

Today we will be showing you one of China's most famous sights - the Great Wall. We visit the dramatic and less crowded Mutianyu section 70km from Beijing set amongst spectacular mountain scenery. Dating back to the 6th Century and largely rebuilt in the 16th century during the Ming Dynasty it is one of the best preserved sections of the wall largely due to the high standard of construction. The tour includes cable car tickets cable up and down the Wall.

Also today, if you wish, we can take you to one of Beijing's many markets. Favourites are the Silk Market, Pearl Market and Panjiayuan antique market. If souvenir shopping isn't for you other options are the Hutong street of Nanluoguxiang, the 798 Dashanzhi contemporary art area or a quick look at the impressive 2008 Olympic Stadium. You can discuss which is right for you with us in advance or your guide on the day.

Return to your hotel for a free evening to enjoy Beijing further or ask us about cultural activities.

NOTE: Bring decent shoes, sunglasses and hat for the trip to the Wall and remember that it is always a good 5 degrees centigrade cooler at the Wall than in downtown Beijing.

MAP OF THE GREAT WALL

- The Great Wall of China is estimated to be over 13,000 miles long (21,196 kilometres), including overlapping sections, making it the longest wall in the world and one of the most impressive architectural feats in history.

- Construction started in the 7th century BC, with various dynasties building and rebuilding it until the 17th century. The most famous sections were built during the Ming Dynasty (1368–1644).

- Originally built as a defensive structure to protect Chinese states and empires against raids and invasions from various nomadic groups, it also served for border controls and encouraged trade along the Silk Road.

- The wall was constructed using a variety of materials that were readily available in the different regions it traverses, including earth, wood, bricks, and stones. The method and materials used in construction varied significantly over time.

MONGOLIA

- Flight up to Mongolia's capital of Ulaanbaatar & evening Folk Show.

Transfer to the airport for your flight up to Mongolia's capital of Ulaanbaatar, a blend of modern life and nomadic traditions. Explore historic monasteries like Gandan Khiid, visit museums showcasing Mongolian heritage, and wander through bustling markets. The city serves as a gateway to the vast steppes, providing a unique cultural experience amid urban comforts.

Upon your arrival in Ulaanbaatar you will meet your guide and driver and taken to the hotel. Free time for the rest of the day until an evening folk show featuring throat singing, vibrant dances, and musicians playing traditional instruments like the morin khuur and yatga zither.

Return to your hotel to rest up for before you adventure into the Steppe tomorrow.

MONGOLIA

- City tour of Ulaanbaatar before heading out to Terelj National Park.

After breakfast a city tour starting with a visit to Zaisan Memorial Hill located on the south side of the City beside the Bogd Khan Mountain. Here there are the best views over the city.

After lunch near to Zaisan, continue to visit “Gandan” Monastery, which is Mongolia’s largest functioning Buddhist monastery including the Mongolian Buddhist University. The highlight of visiting to Gandan is 26 meter-high majestic gilded indoor statue of Megjid Janraisig.

Next we visit Sukhbaatar square which lies at the heart of the city surrounded by important buildings such as the government palace, banks and theatres and the central post office. There is a statue of national hero Sukhbaatar and a massive bronze statue of Genghis Khan and four warriors in front of Parliament House.

Afterwards, set off for Terelj National Park. Upon reaching Terelj National Park, you’ll check into your ger camp. The remainder of the day is yours to relax and appreciate the stunning surroundings before dinner and overnighting in your cozy ger accommodation.

ALL ABOUT MONGOLIAN GERS

Mongolian gers, also known as yurts, are traditional round, portable dwellings used by nomadic herders in Mongolia for centuries. Made from a wooden lattice framework covered with felt and canvas, gers are designed to withstand Mongolia's extreme weather, from hot summers to freezing winters. They are easy to assemble and transport, making them ideal for a nomadic lifestyle. The interior typically includes a stove in the centre, with the layout reflecting Mongolian customs and family life. Today, gers are also a symbol of Mongolian heritage.

MONGOLIAN GERS - DID YOU KNOW ?

- The design of the ger (yurt) dates back over 3,000 years, making it one of the oldest continuously used types of dwellings in human history.
- A ger can be disassembled and reassembled within an hour, making it ideal for the nomadic lifestyle of Mongolian herders.
- Gers are built to withstand Mongolia's extreme climate, from hot summers to harsh winters with temperatures dropping to -40°C (-40°F). Layers of felt insulate the structure during winter and can be removed in summer.
- The ger's structure is made of a wooden frame and covered with felt made from sheep's wool, reflecting Mongolia's resource-efficient and environmentally friendly approach.
- The circular design allows for even distribution of wind and snow, making it more stable in Mongolia's vast and windy steppes.
- The stove, or hearth, is placed in the centre of the ger, symbolising warmth and family unity. It also serves as a central cooking and heating source.
- Tradition dictates that the door of the ger always faces south, providing protection from cold northern winds and ensuring sunlight during the day.
- The interior of the ger is organized according to Mongolian customs. The right side is traditionally for men and tools, while the left side is for women and household items. The north side is reserved for the altar and important family possessions.
- The ger is central to Mongolian hospitality. Visitors are always offered a seat on the left side, facing the family's most honoured possessions.
- Although rooted in tradition, modern gers can include solar panels, satellite dishes, and modern amenities, blending ancient customs with contemporary comforts.

DAY 6

MONGOLIA

- A day exploring the beautiful Terelj National Park.

This morning we discover the beautiful landscape of the Terelj National park. First we visit Turtle Rock, an interesting rock formation looking, with a little imagination, like a turtle and with good views over the park.

After this a hike to Ariyabal meditation temple surrounded by scenic mountains with massive rock formations. This short but strenuous hike is seen as a ritual to cleanse one's sins. From the top there are breathtaking views overlooking Terelj National Park.

Return to camp for lunch before further exploring the area this afternoon visiting a local nomad family to learn about their lifestyle and, if you wish, to try some of the famous fermented mare's milk and other homemade dairy products that are an important part of the local people's diet. It is also possible to arrange horse riding (local payment required if you wish to do this).

Dinner back at the camp and a free evening under the vast Mongolian starlit sky.

ON THE TRAIN

- Return to the city via the Genghis Khan Statue before departing for Russia.

After breakfast return to Ulaanbaatar. En route, you'll also stop in Nalaikh to meet a Kazakh family, where you'll learn about their unique lifestyle. Their traditional Kazakh Gers are known for vibrant, decorative interiors featuring colourful wall-hangings.

You'll visit the impressive Genghis Khan Statue Complex, the tallest equestrian statue in the world at 40 meters high. You can ascend to the horse's head for panoramic views of the vast steppe beyond, Arrival at the train Station in Ulaanbaatar for you train on into Russia.

Evening arrival at the Mongolia-Russia border at Sukhe-Bator. The stops on each side are long but manageable as Mongolia's track is the same gauge as Russia so the bogies do not need to be changed.

NOTE: For the short rail section from Ulaanbaatar to the Russian border the train has no dining car so make sure you bring something for dinner on to the train with you.

DAY 8

IRKUTSK

- Pass Ulan Ude & along the shores of Lake Baikal to Irkutsk.

Today is usually the scenic highlight of the entire journey, a day of lake, forest and mountain views. Early in the morning you reach Ulan Ude before joining the main Trans-Siberian line on to Moscow. Later in the day the train rumbles around the Southern shore of stunning Lake Baikal often passing within a matter of meters of the lake and providing endlessly changing vistas.

Afternoon arrival in Irkutsk, regarded as the modern day cultural capital of Siberia, famed for its traditional wooden architecture.

Transfer to your hotel and once settled and once you've settled in, begin a leisurely two-hour walking tour of the city centre, exploring Irkutsk's rich history and architecture. Your tour will take you through the central park, where you can visit the War Memorial, a solemn tribute to fallen soldiers. Along the Angara River, admire several of the city's beautiful churches, showcasing Irkutsk's architectural diversity and spiritual heritage.

A highlight of the tour is a stop at the statue of Alexander III, the Russian tsar credited with the construction of the Trans-Siberian Railway, which played a key role in connecting Siberia with the rest of Russia.

After the tour, return to your hotel, where you'll have the rest of the day. You can visit local cafés, discover nearby museums, or enjoy a peaceful evening walk along the riverside to soak in more of Irkutsk's unique atmosphere.

 Meals Included: None today - however the train should have a dining car.

OVERNIGHT

HOTEL IRKUTSK

LAKE BAIKAL - DID YOU KNOW ?

- Lake Baikal is the world's oldest freshwater lake, estimated to be around 25-30 million years old. Its age makes it a unique natural laboratory for studying evolution and geological processes.
- With a depth of 1,642 meters (5,387 feet), Lake Baikal is the deepest lake in the world, holding about 20% of the world's unfrozen freshwater supply.
- The lake hosts over 3,700 species of plants and animals, two-thirds of which are endemic, meaning they can't be found anywhere else. The most famous is the Baikal seal (nerpa), the only freshwater seal species in the world.
- The water in Lake Baikal is incredibly clear, especially during winter. In some areas, you can see up to 40 meters (131 feet) down into the lake.
- Lake Baikal is a rift lake, formed due to tectonic plate movements. It's still expanding, at a rate of about 2 cm (0.8 inches) per year, meaning it could eventually become an ocean over millions of years.
- During the winter, the lake freezes over, and its ice can reach up to 1.5 meters thick. The ice is so transparent that people can see fish and plant life beneath it.
- For centuries, Lake Baikal has been considered sacred by indigenous people, especially the Buryat population.

YOUR DETAILED DAY BY DAY ITINERARY

DAY 9

LAKE BAIKAL

- Transfer to Lake Baikal & a tour of the village of Listvyanka.

After breakfast your guide will meet you for a transfer from the 1 hour drive following the route of the Angara River down to the village of Listvyanka located close to where the river meets beautiful Lake Baikal. The lake is among the deepest in the world at 1,642 meters and has exceptionally clear water.

On the way visit the Taltsi Museum of Wooden Architecture showcasing Siberian heritage through a collection of historic wooden buildings. Nestled along the Angara River, it offers visitors a glimpse into the traditional lives of indigenous Siberian peoples, Cossacks, and settlers, featuring reconstructed homes, fortresses, and a picturesque setting in nature.

On arrival in Listvyanka your guide will take you on a 4 hour walking tour including the beautiful church and Limnological Museum to learn about the Lake itself and its unique flora and fauna. We also take chairlift up to a view point for some of the best lake vistas. If time we can also visit the local fish market before a checking in to your hotel for with a free evening.

 Meals Included: Hotel Breakfast.

LAKE BAIKAL

- Ferry to Port Baikol & walk along the Circum-Baikol Railway for a picnic.

After breakfast your guide will meet you at your accommodation and you head to Listvyanka wharf to take a short, 10 minute, ferry ride to nearby Port Baikol. From here walk about 40 minutes along the old Circum-Baikol rail track to where we stop for a picnic lunch with plenty of time to relax and take in the scenery before catching the ferry back to Listvyanka.

The Circum-Baikol Railway is a historic and scenic railway that hugs the southern shore of Lake Baikol in Siberia. Constructed between 1899 and 1905, it was originally part of the Trans-Siberian Railway and is renowned for its remarkable engineering, featuring 39 tunnels, 47 bridges, and numerous stone galleries. Often referred to as a “museum of railway architecture,” this picturesque route offers travellers stunning views of Lake Baikol’s crystal-clear waters, surrounding mountains, and dense forests, making it a popular destination for railway enthusiasts and nature lovers alike.

Free time in the evening to relax after today’s exertions. We recommend arranging a Banya (Russian Sauna) in the village as the best way to achieve this!

TRANS-SIBERIAN DINING OPTIONS

TYPICAL RUSSIAN DINING CAR DISHES

- Solyanka Солянка: A hearty and sour soup with a mix of meat, pickles, and spices.
- Shchi Щи: A cabbage-based soup, often served with sour cream.
- Pirozhki Пирожки: Small baked or fried buns filled with meat, potatoes, cabbage, or sweet fillings like jam.
- Borscht Борщ: A traditional beet soup served hot, often with sour cream and sometimes accompanied by bread or a meat cutlet.
- Pelmeni Пельмени: Russian dumplings filled with meat, usually served with sour cream or butter.
- Kasha Каша: A type of porridge made from grains like buckwheat or oats, often served for breakfast.
- Blini Блины: Thin Russian pancakes, often served with fillings like jam, sour cream, or caviar.
- Kotleti Котлеты: Meat patties made from minced beef or chicken, typically served with mashed potatoes or rice.
- Russian Tea & Sweets Русский чай и сладости: Hot tea served in podstakannik (a metal tea glass holder), typically accompanied by cookies, chocolates, or small cakes.

Introduction: Dining on the Trans-Siberian Railway is a blend of onboard meals, platform food, and self-prepared options.

Dining Car: The dining car offers traditional Russian dishes like borscht, pelmeni, and kotleti, along with simpler fare like salads and sandwiches. Travellers can enjoy hearty, filling meals in a cozy setting while sipping tea, often served in the classic podstakannik (metal holders).

Stations: At station stops, passengers can buy food from local vendors. These vendors sell regional delicacies such as pirozhki (stuffed buns), smoked fish, and fresh fruit, providing a chance to taste the flavours of Russia's vast regions as you pass through.

Supermarkets: Many passengers prefer to bring their own provisions from supermarkets before boarding. Items like instant noodles, bread, cheese, and sausage are popular, with boiling water available on the train to make quick meals. This option is especially convenient for longer stretches between stops.

The combination of onboard dining, platform food, and self-prepared snacks ensures a varied and flexible eating experience, catering to both adventurous and budget-conscious travellers.

DAY 12

ON THE TRAIN

- Good scenery today passing Krasnoyarsk & onto Novosibirsk.

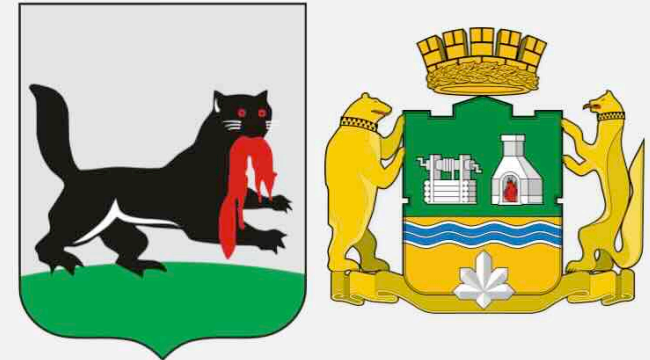

Today's journey offers beautiful scenery characterised by gently rolling hills and expansive forests dominated by larch, pine, and birch trees. The landscape, dotted with numerous rivers, streams, and ponds, showcases Russia's immense natural beauty and gives a sense of its vast, often untouched wilderness. As you travel through Siberia, the changing views offer an appreciation of the country's sweeping, unspoiled terrain.

You will pass the picturesque city of Krasnoyarsk, known for its striking location along the Yenisei River and its blend of traditional Siberian charm and modern vibrancy. Continuing onward, you reach Novosibirsk, Siberia's largest city and a major cultural, scientific, and industrial hub.

Arriving in the evening, Novosibirsk greets visitors with grand Soviet-era architecture, bustling streets, and a lively cityscape—a stark contrast to the serene countryside vistas experienced throughout the day. This segment of your journey reveals Siberia's incredible diversity and timeless allure.

 Meals Included: None today - however the train should have a dining car.

THE BUILDING OF THE TRANS-SIBERIAN

CONSTRUCTION OF THE TRANS-SIBERIAN - DID YOU KNOW ?

- The Trans-Siberian Railway is the longest railway line in the world, stretching over 9,289 kilometres (5,772 miles) from Moscow to Vladivostok. It crosses eight time zones.
- Construction of the railway began in 1891 under the rule of Tsar Alexander III. His son, Nicholas II, who would later become Russia's last tsar, was tasked with overseeing the project.
- The railway was constructed in phases, with work starting in both the west (near Moscow) and the east (near Vladivostok). Different sections were completed at various times, and the entire line was finished in 1916.
- The construction faced numerous geographical challenges, including crossing mountains, forests, and swamps. For example, engineers had to build bridges across major rivers like the Ob and Amur, and deal with the extreme cold of Siberian winters.
- Before the railway line around Lake Baikal was completed, trains had to be loaded onto ferries to cross the lake. A special icebreaker ferry, the Baikal, was built to operate in winter when the lake froze.
- The Amur Bridge near Khabarovsk, completed in 1916, was the final piece of the Trans-Siberian puzzle, linking the entire route without interruption. It spans 2.6 kilometres (1.6 miles) and was one of the most challenging engineering feats of the project.
- The construction of the Trans-Siberian Railway was extremely expensive and was partly funded by international loans, especially from France. The railway was seen as a crucial strategic asset to expand Russian influence in the Far East.
- The Trans-Siberian Railway has been continually modernised. The electrification of the railway started in 1929 and was completed in 2002, allowing for faster and more efficient trains to operate on the line.

DAY 13

EKATERINBURG

- Your last day in Siberia before arrival in Ekaterinburg.

Today's scenery offers a captivating journey through Russia's diverse landscapes. For much of the day, the view remains flat, often giving way to vast, swampy expanses and stretches of dense forest. The sparsely populated region creates a serene atmosphere, interrupted occasionally by small settlements. Omsk stands out as the primary major city along this route, offering glimpses of its rich cultural heritage, striking architecture, and history as a key Cossack stronghold.

As the day progresses, the flat terrain transforms into the rolling hills of the Ural Mountains, a significant geographical marker and gateway between Europe and Asia. The Ural region, rich in minerals, has historically been a hub of economic and cultural activity.

Arriving in Ekaterinburg, the historic capital of this region, you are greeted by a city steeped in history—from the Romanov legacy to its vibrant present. Surrounded by rolling countryside and traditional Siberian villages, Ekaterinburg offers a blend of cultural significance and natural beauty. Transfer by private car to your hotel for an overnight stay, ready to explore more of this intriguing area.

 Meals Included: None today - however the train should have a dining car.

ROMANOV'S GRAVE SITE

EUROPE ASIA BORDER

EKATERINBURG CITY

DAY 14

EKATERINBURG

- City tour, Romanov's secret graves & the Europe Asia border.

This morning your guide will take you on a 3 hour walking tour of the city's highlights. Stop at the central square and see statues of Ekaterinburg's founders and leaders and learn local stories, legends (and a few jokes!) related to them. Continue to the 1905 Revolution square before the most compelling story will be told at the beautiful Church of Spilled Blood located at the Romanovs' Death Site and Chapel of St Elizabeth. See views from the Hill of Ascension and visit the powerful Afghanistan memorial at the Square of the Red Army.

After lunch (own arrangement) drive 15 km north-west to a monastery dedicated to the Romanov's family located on the spot where the Bolsheviks tried to hide the corpses of the Tsar and his family in a secret grave.

Continue on to the continental border of Europe and Asia 20 km west of the city. On the way we make a short stop at the Memorial of Victims of the GULAGs. The Main Obelisk "Between Europe & Asia" allows you to straddle the continental divide and you also get a Certificate with a glass of sparkling wine!

Return to the city with free time for the rest of the day.

The Romanov dynasty ruled Russia for over 300 years, from 1613 to 1917, beginning with Mikhail Romanov and ending with Nicholas II. The family came to power during a time of unrest known as the Time of Troubles, and Mikhail Romanov was elected Tsar in 1613, restoring stability to the country.

Over the centuries, the Romanovs expanded Russia into a vast empire. Under rulers like Peter the Great and Catherine the Great, the empire modernised, engaged with Europe, and grew in power. Peter introduced Western reforms and established St. Petersburg, while Catherine expanded Russia's territory and promoted culture.

The last Romanov tsar, Nicholas II, ascended the throne in 1894. His reign saw significant challenges, including the Russo-Japanese War (1904-1905), Bloody Sunday (1905), and the Russian Revolution of 1905. Despite efforts at reform, discontent grew. The Bolshevik Revolution in 1917 led to Nicholas abdicating the throne.

In 1918, the Bolsheviks executed Nicholas II, his wife Alexandra, and their five children, ending the Romanov dynasty. The family's downfall was due to political unrest, social inequality, and failure to adapt to the changing political climate, marking the end of imperial Russia.

THE ROMANOVS IN EKATERINBURG - A TIMELINE

- April 30, 1918: The Romanov family—Tsar Nicholas II, Tsarina Alexandra, and their five children—arrived in Ekaterinburg after being transferred from Tobolsk by the Bolsheviks.
- They were imprisoned in the Ipatiev House, also known as the “House of Special Purpose.” The house was heavily guarded, and the family's movements were restricted.
- The Romanovs were confined to two rooms. Their personal freedoms and comforts gradually diminished; they were forbidden from interacting with guards and could only go outside for limited walks.
- Heightened Security: In June 1918, the Bolsheviks increased the security around Ipatiev House. Windows were boarded up, and outside communications were cut off, signalling the impending end.
- Bolshevik leaders feared a possible rescue attempt by the advancing White Army, which prompted them to consider the execution of the Romanov family to prevent their liberation.
- July 16, 1918: The Bolsheviks received orders from Moscow to execute the Romanov family, concerned over White Army movements in the region.
- The bodies were initially buried in a shallow grave in the Koptyaki Forest, near Ekaterinburg. The burial site remained a secret for decades.
- In 1991, the Romanov family's remains were discovered, identified through DNA testing, and reburied in St. Petersburg in 1998.

DAY 15

EKATERINBURG

- Full day tour into the rolling Ural countryside to visit a village.

Today we drive out of the city to one of the photogenic country villages that are scattered across the rolling scenery of the Ural mountains. Here we see a traditional Siberian “izba” house - a style suited to the often extreme environment - that can be seen right across Siberia.

We also visit the local museum to learn about everyday life in this part of Russia and listen to a concert of local folk music. There will be time to explore the village with your guide and you will also enjoy a traditional Siberian homestyle lunch often using locally produced and seasonal ingredients.

Return to Ekaterinburg late afternoon with a free evening.

NOTE: Depending on the day of your visit this trip will be to either Koptelovo, Nizhnyaya Sinyachikha or Mironovo village all approximately 150 km from Ekaterinburg.

ON THE TRAIN

- Departure Westbound to Russia's capital of Moscow.

Begin your journey with a transfer to the station. As your train departs, you soon cross the symbolic Europe-Asia continental border, an exciting milestone highlighting the diversity of Russia's vast lands.

This stretch of your journey reveals a more densely populated region compared to the remote expanses of Siberia. Rolling past fields of farmland, you'll catch sight of small towns and charming villages that are integral to rural Russian life.

The landscape here is interspersed with dense birch forests, their white trunks and vibrant green leaves forming picturesque natural backdrops. The train ride provides a window into the everyday lives of locals, as you witness bustling town markets, quiet rural paths, and traditional Russian wooden homes.

The blend of scenic countryside and modern settlements offers a glimpse into the heart of European Russia West of the Urals and where most people live.

MOSCOW

- Arrival in Russia's Capital & tour the Kremlin & Armoury, Metro & Red Square.

Morning arrival at Moscow's large Yaroslavsky station where a driver will be meeting you to transfer you to the hotel to meet your guide. It is unlikely you can check in this early but your luggage will be stored.

Moscow, founded in 1147, grew from a small medieval town to the political and cultural heart of Russia. It became the capital in 1547 under Ivan the Terrible, survived invasions like Napoleon's in 1812, and transformed into a global power hub during Soviet rule, retaining its status today as Russia's capital.

Start a tour of Moscow which begins with a visit to Red Square, where you'll see iconic sites like St. Basil's Cathedral and the Lenin Mausoleum. Next, head to the Kremlin for a guided tour of its historic cathedrals, palaces, and the Armoury Museum, showcasing royal treasures, Fabergé eggs, and ceremonial weaponry.

In the afternoon, dive into the architectural beauty of the Moscow Metro, known for its opulent, museum-like stations such as Komsomolskaya and Mayakovskaya. Conclude the day by strolling through Alexander Garden for a visit to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, offering a fitting end to a day filled with Moscow's historic and cultural grandeur.

Return to your hotel to check-in and relax with the evening free.

MOSCOW

- Free day to explore Moscow independently & enjoy its many sights.

Spend a free day exploring Moscow, a city rich in culture, history, and breathtaking architecture, with attractions to suit all interests and weather conditions. Art lovers can lose themselves in the vast collections at the Pushkin Fine Arts Museum, home to a broad array of European masterpieces, or admire the extensive display of Russian art at the Tretyakov Gallery. For those who relish outdoor experiences, Gorky Park provides an energetic atmosphere ideal for walking, cycling, or simply relaxing amidst nature, with its manicured gardens, riverside views, and vibrant street performers.

Take time to explore the intriguing Park of the Fallen Idols, where Soviet-era monuments and statues are displayed in a unique outdoor museum, offering a fascinating glimpse into the nation's past. The historic Novodevitchy Convent, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, invites peaceful reflection amid its picturesque grounds, historic buildings, and iconic cemetery.

If the weather turns inclement, seek refuge in the trendy Red October district, which offers a mix of chic bars, contemporary art galleries, and inviting cafes. Moscow's eclectic blend of tradition and modernity ensures an unforgettable day of exploration and discovery.

MOSCOW'S KREMLIN

The Moscow KREMLIN

MOSCOW'S KREMLIN - DID YOU KNOW ?

- The Kremlin is the oldest part of Moscow, with origins dating back to 1156, when it was a wooden fortress built by Prince Yuri Dolgorukiy. It has been rebuilt and expanded multiple times throughout its history.
- Covering an area of 27.5 hectares (68 acres), the Moscow Kremlin is the largest medieval fortress still in use today. Its walls stretch for 2.25 kilometres (1.4 miles), and it includes several palaces, cathedrals, and government buildings.
- The Kremlin walls are over 6 meters (20 feet) thick in places and contain 20 towers, each with its unique history. The Spasskaya Tower, added in 1491, is the most famous, featuring a clock and often seen as the main entrance to the Kremlin.
- Although not inside the Kremlin walls, Lenin's Mausoleum on Red Square is closely associated with the Kremlin. It houses the embalmed body of Vladimir Lenin, the leader of the 1917 Russian Revolution.
- There are numerous secret tunnels and rooms beneath the Kremlin. Some of these were built for military defence, while others were intended as escape routes for the tsars and Soviet leaders.
- The Kremlin has served as the political and spiritual heart of Russia for centuries. It was the residence of the tsars, the seat of Soviet power, and today, it houses the official residence of the President of Russia.

THE BUILDING OF ST PETERSBURG

ST PETERSBURG - DID YOU KNOW ?

- St. Petersburg was founded by Tsar Peter the Great in 1703 as part of his vision to modernise Russia and open a “window to the West.” He chose the site along the Neva River for its strategic access to the Baltic Sea.
- The city was constructed on swampy land in the delta of the Neva River. This meant extensive groundwork was needed, and workers had to drain swamps and lay massive wooden foundations for stability, making construction extremely difficult and dangerous.
- The site of St. Petersburg was originally part of Sweden until Peter the Great seized it during the Great Northern War (1700–1721). The city was built partly as a military base to secure Russia’s presence on the Baltic Sea.
- Peter the Great sought to model the city after Western European capitals like Amsterdam and Venice, emphasising canals, grand boulevards, and baroque architecture. He hired architects from Italy, France, and other parts of Europe to design the city.
- To ensure enough stone was available for St. Petersburg’s construction, Peter the Great banned the use of stone for new building projects in other parts of Russia. Only St. Petersburg could use stone during its early years.

WHY TAKE THE TRANS-SIBERIAN ?

CULTURE

Traverse vast landscapes, from the Ural Mountains to Siberian forests and Lake Baikal, witnessing the incredible diversity of Russia's natural beauty from the comfort of the train.

SCENERY

Experience the diverse cultures of Russia, Mongolia, and China by interacting with locals and fellow travellers, offering a unique cultural exchange across three countries on a single journey.

HISTORY

Follow a legendary route over 100 years old, tracing the Trans-Siberian Railway's historic path, which played a crucial role in connecting distant parts of Russia with Europe and Asia.

DESTINATIONS

Visit remarkable stops along the way, like Moscow, the heart of Russia; Irkutsk, near Lake Baikal; and Ulaanbaatar, the capital of Mongolia, each offering a glimpse of unique regional cultures.

SLOW TRAVEL

The train offers a slow-paced, immersive travel experience with comfortable sleeper cabins, dining cars, and scenic views, providing the perfect opportunity to relax and unwind over long distances.

THE TRANS-SIBERIAN TRAINS

A Trans-Siberian trip is all about the trains and they are the hardest bit to get right. It takes years of experience and having actually tried and tested the trains to know which are the best options for each section of your trip. For the most part standards of rolling stock are good along all the rail routes. Life on board these trains is, as you would expect, a highlight of these trips and rarely disappoints. As a travel experience we think there is nothing quite like it.

CLASSES

We book 2 berth first class and 4 berth second class cabins.

SAFETY

A top priority for us & trains are well policed, safe & secure.

FOOD

Most trains have dining cars or you can bring on board.

FACILITIES

Each carriage has to washrooms which are functional but clean.

TIMINGS

We use the best timed options for each trip segment.

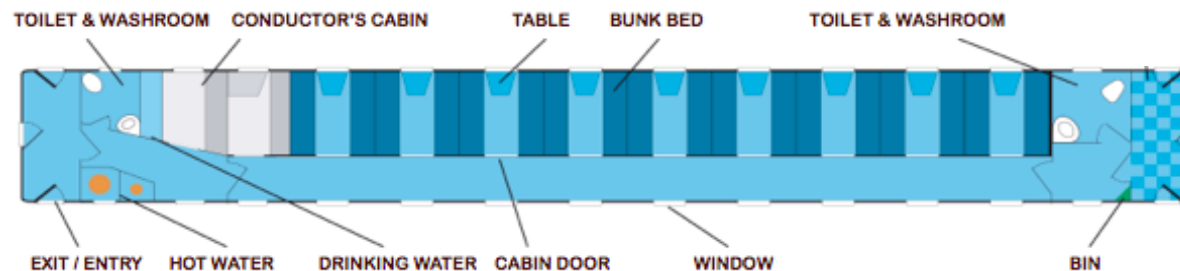

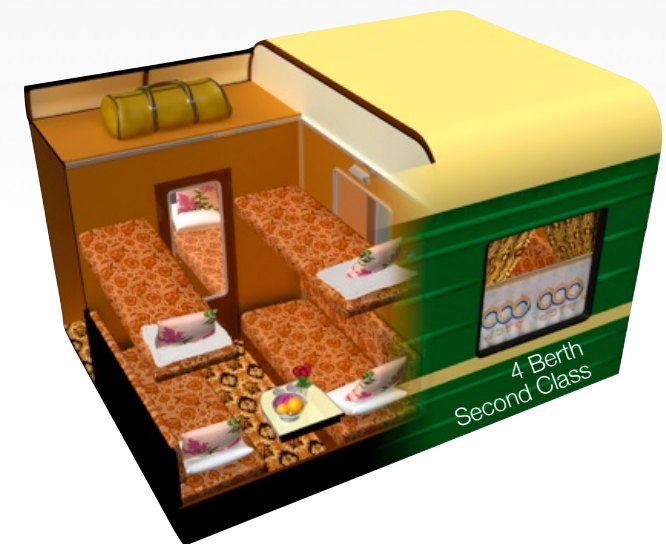

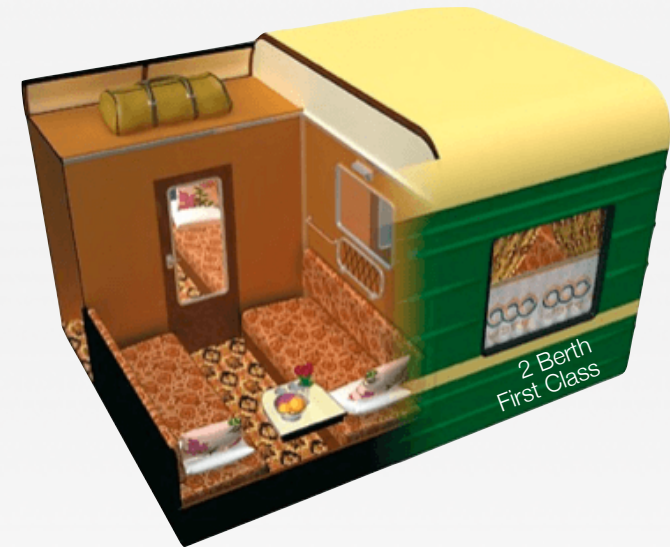

We use a large number of trains across our trips aiming to use the best possible option for each leg of the journey taking into account reliability of the timetable and obtaining tickets, the best and most practical departure and arrival times as well as safety and comfort. Between us we have travelled on almost all the trains we offer in all classes whether they be Russian, Mongolian or Chinese services.

Almost every train has a dining car and the trains we use are safe and secure with each carriage staffed by two Provodniks / Provodnitsa (conductors). We book both first class 2 berth and second class 4 berth compartments that are comfortable and have lockable doors and a large window for the fabulous views along the way.

Click here to visit the trains section of our website for much more information.

"We had first class transport for all but one leg of the journey. The trains were clean and easy to sleep on."

VACCINATIONS

Vaccinations are not typically required for entry into China, but we do recommend to be up-to-date on routine vaccines. Additionally, vaccinations for Hepatitis A, Typhoid Japanese Encephalitis, Rabies, and Yellow Fever may also be recommended but are not usually necessary for the usual places visited. Always consult a healthcare provider for personalised health advice before traveling, based on your itinerary and health history.

VISAS

Visas are generally required for travellers entering China. Most visitors, including those from the UK, US, Canada, and European countries, must obtain a visa prior to arrival for tourism. There are a few exceptions, such as the 24-72 hour visa-free transit policy in certain cities for travellers from 53 countries but they usually don't apply to our tours. Always check the latest visa requirements with the Chinese embassy or consulate and this Wikipedia link is useful.

WHEN TO VISIT

The best time to visit China largely depends on the region due to its vast size and varied climate. Generally, spring (April to May) and autumn (September to October) are ideal across most of the country, offering mild temperatures and minimal rainfall. These seasons are perfect for exploring both the urban cities and the countryside. However, for specific attractions like the Harbin Ice Festival, winter is the best time, despite the cold temperatures.

ELECTRICITY & PLUGS

In China, the standard voltage is 220V with a frequency of 50Hz. The country uses types A, C, and I plug sockets, so travellers may need adapters.

Type C

MONEY TO TAKE

When visiting China, it's wise to carry both cash and a card. While major cities accept credit cards, cash is essential in smaller towns and for local vendors. ATMs are widespread, but not all accept international cards. WeChat Pay and Alipay dominate digital payments, yet access requires a Chinese bank account or a difficult link to your bank. Carrying yuan (RMB) is recommended, especially for everyday transactions. Inform your bank prior to travel to avoid card issues.

VACCINATIONS

Vaccinations are not required for entry into Mongolia, but it's recommended to be up-to-date on routine vaccines like MMR, diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis, and influenza. Vaccines for Hepatitis A and Typhoid are advised due to potential food and water risks. Hepatitis B is recommended for extended stays, while Rabies and Tick-borne Encephalitis are recommended for rural travel. Consult your healthcare provider for personalised advice based on your itinerary and health needs before visiting Mongolia.

VISAS

Mongolia allows citizens of 62 countries, including the U.S., Canada, and EU nations, to visit visa-free for 14 to 90 days depending on nationality. Travellers from other countries must obtain a 30-day tourist visa, which can be extended in Mongolia. Visas are available at Mongolian embassies and consulates. Check specific requirements before traveling, as policies vary based on nationality and travel purpose. This Wikipedia link is useful.

WHEN TO VISIT

The best time to visit Mongolia is from June to September, with warm weather ideal for exploring the Gobi Desert, trekking, and camping. July is popular for the Naadam Festival, showcasing Mongolian culture. Temperatures range from 20°C to 25°C (68°F to 77°F). For cooler weather and fewer crowds, late August to early September is ideal, as the landscapes remain lush and travel conditions are optimal for outdoor activities.

ELECTRICITY & PLUGS

Mongolia uses 230V, 50Hz electricity, with Type C and Type E plugs, which are common in Europe. Ensure your devices are compatible.

Type E

MONEY TO TAKE

It's advisable to carry some Mongolian Tugriks (MNT), especially for use in rural areas where cash is preferred. In larger cities like Ulaanbaatar, credit and debit cards are widely accepted in hotels, restaurants, and shops. ATMs are available in urban areas for withdrawing local currency. It's recommended to exchange money at banks or official exchange counters, as foreign currencies are not typically accepted. Always carry some cash in remote regions.

VACCINATIONS

Vaccinations are generally not required for entry into Russia, but it is recommended to be up-to-date on routine vaccines like MMR (measles, mumps, rubella), diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis, and influenza. Additional vaccines to consider based on your activities and areas of travel include Hepatitis A (for food and water safety), Hepatitis B, Rabies (especially for rural areas), and Tick-borne Encephalitis if you plan to hike or camp in forested regions during the spring or summer.

VISAS

Citizens from the United States, Canada, the UK, and EU, typically need a tourist visa to visit Russia. The visa application process requires an invitation letter (also known as a visa support document), a completed visa application form, a valid passport (with at least six months remaining after the visa expires), a passport-sized photo, and proof of travel insurance. Processing can take from a few days to several weeks, depending on the country and service chosen. This Wikipedia link is useful.

WHEN TO VISIT

The best time to travel the Trans-Siberian Railway is late spring (May) or early autumn (September), when temperatures are mild, and landscapes are at their most scenic, with blooming flowers or vibrant fall colours. These months avoid the extreme cold of winter and the summer tourist season. June to August is also pleasant but busier, while winter (December to February) offers a magical snow-covered journey, though temperatures can drop below -20°C.

ELECTRICITY & PLUGS

Russia uses 220V, 50Hz electricity. Plugs are Type C (European) and Type F, both with two round pins. These are standard in most European countries.

Type C

Type F

MONEY TO TAKE

When visiting Russia, it's useful to carry Russian rubles (RUB) for smaller purchases, especially in rural areas. Major cities like Moscow and Saint Petersburg widely accept credit and debit cards. ATMs are readily available for cash withdrawals, and Visa and MasterCard are the most commonly accepted cards. It's advisable to exchange some currency before arrival or use ATMs for rubles. Inform your bank about your trip to avoid card issues abroad.

HOW FAR IN ADVANCE DO I NEED TO BOOK?

The Trans-Siberian can be quite a complex trip with a definite peak season when tickets and good hotel rooms can become scarce so we recommend booking as far in advance as possible if you are travelling from June to the end of September. Outside of this period we still recommend booking at least 2 months in advance to allow plenty of time to obtain the visas.

CAN YOU OBTAIN THE VISAS FOR US?

We have a partnership with the visa agents CIBT Visa Central who will guide you through the visa application process. As you are likely to be obtaining more than one visa for a Trans-Siberian trip it makes sense to make use of a specialised visa agent who will do the leg work running between the various embassies.

IS IT SAFE TO BOOK WITH YOU?

In a word, Yes! We members of ABTA and ATOL Bonded so any payments made to us are fully protected in the unlikely event of our financial failure. Our ABTA membership number is Y1699 and our ATOL license number is 10287.

WHAT IS THE BEST TIME OF YEAR TO TRAVEL?

The summer months from June to the end of August are generally considered the best and are certainly the busiest. However, catching the Autumn colours from early September is probably our favourite time to visit Russia although Mongolia can already be cold. China tends to be best in September and October although do try and avoid the week long National Day holiday during the 1st week of October. Don't forget that Siberia looks stunning in winter!

DO YOU HAVE FINANCIAL PROTECTION?

In a word, Yes! We members of ABTA and ATOL Bonded so any payments made to us are fully protected in the unlikely event of our financial failure. Our ABTA membership number is Y1699 and our ATOL license number is 10287.

BEYOND THE TRANS-SIBERIAN?

Yes, we can book flight or train tickets to onward destinations and we are also specialist China tour operators through our sister tour operator, THE CHINA TRAVEL COMPANY.

IS IT WORTH TRAVELLING IN WINTER?

Oh Yes! Siberia looks amazing, a ger stay in Mongolia is the definition of cosy and Beijing is cold but dry and sunny. All three countries are very used to dealing with winter making the experience more comfortable than you might think.

DO THE TRAINS HAVE PLUGS FOR RECHARGING?

As a rule, yes although if there are 4 of you in a cabin you will need to take turns - or bring an extension plug! You can also ask your provodnitsas nicely if you can use her plugs but that will depend on the individual and they may expect a tip for this.

IS TRANS-SIBERIAN TRAVEL SAFE?

Yes! In recent years we hear of very few problems either on the stops or the trains and there is no reason why you should not feel as safe if not safer than if travelling in your home country. This applies to men or women traveling alone and exercising reasonable common sense.

ESSENTIAL TRANS-SIBERIAN INFORMATION, TIPS & FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN FIRST & SECOND CLASS?

First and second class cabins are the same size and tend to have similar facilities with the only real but big difference being that 2nd class cabins have 4 berths and first class 2 berths. So a couple get privacy and space in first class. A first class carriage will also have less competition for bathroom although this is not usually a big issue or a particular reason to go first class. Second class is arguably more social.

WHAT HAPPENS ONCE WE MAKE A BOOKING?

On taking a booking we will confirm as many of the services as can be at that point and then ask you for a non-refundable deposit of 20% per person plus any international flights we are booking with the final balance payment due 60 days before your trip start date with us. On booking we will also offer advice about obtaining the visas and about 1 month before your trip with us starts we will send you our exclusive Trip Guidebook tailored to your specific trip with us.

CAN YOU BOOK INTERNATIONAL FLIGHTS ?

Yes, as we hold an ATOL license (number 10287) we are permitted by the Civil Aviation Authority in the UK to book flights on behalf of our clients. We are a British Airways preferred operator but also book with other airlines to get the best deals and routes for our clients.

WILL MY PHONE WORK ?

Yes and you will find coverage is surprisingly good all the way along the train routes and in cities. If you buy a SIM card make sure you are buying for the right phone system as some mobile companies in Mongolia, for example, operate on GSM (same as UK, Europe) and others CDMA (North America and Japan). You should also check what roaming charges will be with your mobile provider.

WHY SHOULD WE BOOK A TRIP WITH YOU

We took our first Trans-Siberian trip in 1997 and between us have taken many trips since. We have been to all destinations we offer, often many times, and are passionate about sharing our knowledge and providing you with the best possible travel experience of these destinations which we love to visit ourselves. Add to this the back up we offer from financial protection of your payments to us to the 24 hour emergency numbers we give you before your trip and we think we are the full package for quality, service and reliability.

HOW MUCH MONEY WILL I NEED TO TAKE WITH ME?

The bulk of your costs are taken care of when booking with us so you will only be spending on day to day expenses such as additional meals, drinks, souvenirs and any entrance fees on free days. Russia is expensive and it is easy to go through £50 a day in Moscow although less elsewhere. Mongolia is likely to be cheapest as there isn't that much to spend money on in the countryside. China is between the two with spending from about £30 a day upwards as an approximate guide. On the train it would be difficult to spend more than £20 a day.

DO YOU CATER FOR VEGETARIANS?

As long as we are informed at the time of making your booking we can cater for almost all dietary requirements.

IS THERE ANYTHING ELSE I SHOULD BE ASKING?

Almost certainly! We fully expect you will have many more questions and we are here to answer them so please do not hesitate to contact us - that is what we are here for!

THROUGH SIBERIA BY ACCIDENT

DERVLA MURPHY

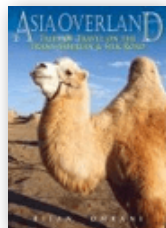

Excellent account of Siberia and in particular the remote and rarely traveled Baikal Amur Line (BAM). Well researched and full of character this book brings Siberia alive through the descriptions of the characters she meets along the way.

TRAVELS IN SIBERIA

IAN FRAZIER

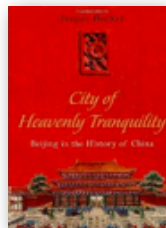

Frazier reveals Siberia's role in history, its science, economics, and politics. Traveling by car rather than train from St Petersburg to Vladivostok in five weeks in one of the most humorous, informative and hugely entertaining of Trans-Siberian books.

ASIA OVERLAND

BIJAN OMRANI

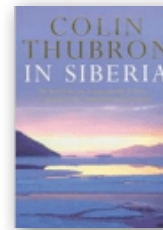

Tales of Travel on the Trans-Siberian and Silk Road. This title offers a travel companion and historical travelogue. It is resourced from travel luminaries: George Kennan to Anton Chekhov, Fa Xian to Marco Polo and Matteo Ricci.

THE CITY OF HEAVENLY TRANQUILITY

JASPER BECKER

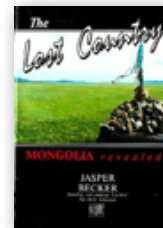

One of the best books devoted to Beijing and an entertaining historical account of the city that will give some real insight into what makes Beijing tick. The range is almost up to the modern day which gives the reader a good idea of what Beijing has been through.

IN SIBERIA

COLIN THUBRON

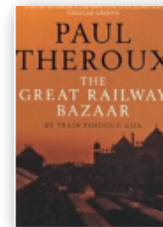

One of the books about Siberia as Thubron delves far deeper than the average travel writer trying to understand the essence of the people that live there and the land they live in. Quite a dark read but perhaps essential to understand.

THE LOST COUNTRY: MONGOLIA REVEALED

JASPER BECKER

Another Becker offering covering the history of Mongolia through his travels there in the early 90's. It is full of anecdotes and historical stories of the strange and bizarre and offers a good grounding in Mongolia up until the early years after the fall of the Soviet Union.

THE GREAT RAILWAY BAZAAR

PAUL THEROUX

One of the classic travel books about the Trans-Siberian. If you like this Riding the Iron Rooster and the more recent Ghost Train to the Eastern Star are superb, the latter revisiting the travel of The Great Railway Bazaar some 30 years later.

SILVERLAND

DERVLA MURPHY

Extraordinary expedition in winter beyond Siberia to the furthest corners of Russia. Here she discovers a strange world of lynx and elks, indigenous tribes and shamanism, reindeer broth and taiga-berry pie.
